

Room Profile

Training Room

Training Rooms can also be recognized as classrooms. Rows of desks are lined up facing one direction with a monitor and podium or desk at the front of the room. It is critical for these rooms to be as efficient as possible, with devices that aid in the performance of the room. Training Rooms are flexible in their setup as well, with the desks and chairs moving to fit the need of each meeting. Devices like the Stingray DSP Mixer allow for the functionality of the room to remain intact, no matter the configuration.

In the following rendering, we created a room that seats 18 people and utilizes two Stingray DSP Mixers. The room requires 6 microphones in the ceiling, as well as one microphone for the speaker at the podium. There are also 6 ceiling-mounted speakers.

Training Room Configuration

Stringray MT700 DSP MIXER

